

Sphere, tables

Róisín Lafferty unveils the Sphere Dining Table, a collectible limited-edition collection crafted from rare Breccia Acquasanta marble and produced in an edition of just five pieces. Exclusively available at Róisín Lafferty Gallery, the collection represents a defining expression of Lafferty's design philosophy and a significant evolution in her work as a furniture designer. Sphere is rooted in the idea of the eternal feminine. It explores one of the simplest yet most complex of forms, reflecting the universe and the endless cycles that shape our lives.

Representing the form of the earth and carved from the earth itself, Sphere brings together design, engineering and world-class craftsmanship in pursuit of balance, beauty and perfection of form. Stone is traditionally perceived as heavy, sharp and cold. Through Sphere, Lafferty sought to present it as she sees it: soft, malleable, beautiful and tactile. This intention is amplified through the choice of Breccia Acquasanta marble, a rare and expressive stone characterized by rose and dusty pink tones. Its natural variation ensures that each piece within the collection is entirely unique, reinforcing its status as a collectible object.
